

why LINNÉ MUST FALL SWINDLER

Linné first doubled and then tripled the distance he had travelled to Sápmi in his accounts of the journey (Koerner 1999, 61f.).

ASSHOLE

"When [Linné] heard that the Lutheran missionaries forced Sami to convert by opening forearm veins and threatening them to bleed them to death, he laughed aloud." (Koerner 99, 64)

what we want

We are aware that symbolic changes such as renaming the university will not be enough. Our goal is to open a space to talk about and change racist structures in the university.

Eze, E.C. (ed.) (1997) Race and the enlightenment. A reader.

Koerner, L. (1999) Linnaeus. Nature and nation.

Schiebinger, L. (2004) Nature's body. Gender in the making of modern science.